Lube Hero Boot Camp

Thursday, October 29, 2015

Last year, our members identified “lubrication education” as the #1 topic to include in the 2015-16 program schedule. In response, the Niagara Frontier Chapter of the Vibration Institute is excited to bring Lubrigard’s new program Lube Hero Boot Camp to Western New York.

Seating is limited, so please register early.

Why Lube Hero Boot Camp? In a recent survey of maintenance professionals, 99% of the respondents agreed that lubrication is either critical or very important to equipment reliability. The group also acknowledged that their lubrication programs fell short and could be significantly improved. To address this shortfall, Lubrigard developed the Lube Hero Boot Camp.

What is Lube Hero Boot Camp? In a comprehensive one-day session, the “drill instructor” covers seven fundamental Lubrication Management categories and their importance: Lubricant Storage, Handling, Dispensing, Machine Contamination Control, Oil Sampling, Oil Analysis, and Training & Education. Furthermore, to facilitate speedy and effective implementation, each participant performs a self-assessment and receives a comprehensive 50 page report comparing his/her plant’s current lubrication maintenance practices against world-class criteria, with a detailed blueprint on how to close the gap. A financial assessment is provided that demonstrates the Internal Rate of Return (IRR) and Net Present Value (NPV) that would be realized by implementing the proposed improvements.
